

Self-Advocacy Brunch and Discussion Forum

“Inspire, Motivate, Empower”

People with disabilities have the right to advocate for themselves. This means they have the right to speak or act on their own behalf, whether the issue is personal (e.g., housing, work, friends) or related to public policy. Recognizing these rights in a respectful partnership between people with and without disabilities can lead to better outcomes and better lives for everyone.

Join us for a panel discussion from self-advocates who will discuss how they overcame obstacles as well as how self-advocates can have a meaningful effect on issues that are important to them by engaging in public advocacy.
